GENERAL INFORMATION:

Dr. Sandra Dooley is certified as a licensed professional counselor and as a marriage and family therapist by the State of Texas. Since 1987, Dr. Dooley has been engaged in a professional private practice in Dallas, Texas, providing counseling and therapeutic services to children, adolescents and adults.

Dr. Dooley worked extensively from 1990-1993 with patients suffering from sexual abuse and trauma and those suffering from severe drug and alcohol abuse who were hospitalized at Millwood Hospital, Arlington, Texas and The Recovery Source, Houston, Texas. Dr. Dooley has conducted many workshops for other professionals treating addictive disorders and has made presentations at hospitals for patients focused on depression and addictions. In the intervening years, Dr. Dooley has counseled many children, adolescents, adults, and couples in marital therapy as well as family therapy.

Dr. Dooley's work focuses on assisting family law attorneys and their clients who are encountering issues related to divorce, child custody and child visitation issues as well as providing courtroom testimony when needed.

Additionally, Dr. Dooley is frequently appointed by Family Courts in Dallas, Denton, and Collin counties to provide counseling to children and/or couples ordered by the courts to participate in counseling. Dr. Dooley is also frequently appointed by Family Courts in Dallas and other counties to conduct custody evaluations and provide the courts written reports of her findings and conclusions. Dr. Dooley provides deposition and trial testimony concerning her social studies and reports.

As reflected above, Dr. Dooley has been an active member of many counseling organizations and civic endeavors through the years since 1987 when she began her counseling career. Additional information can be obtained by visiting her web site, www.sandydooley.com.
